Mr. Cory Thomas

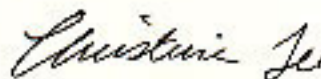

Dear Mr. Thomas:

Thank you very much for your recent submission. Your work is remarkably clever and appealing.

After careful consideration, our Editorial Board has come to the conclusion that we are unable to distribute your material at the present time. I hope you understand that this is in no way a reflection on your talent, but a decision based on our prior commitments.

We have an obligation to meet the needs of our other cartoonists and, unfortunately, we are extremely limited in our ability to add new features at this time.

Sincerely,

Christina Lee
